

A studio built to create worlds

Greenwood Galaxy Studios creates original entertainment for children and families worldwide. Founded by filmmaker, writer and producer Mark Greenwood, the studio combines storytelling, character design, music and emerging production technology to move ambitious ideas rapidly from concept to screen.

The current slate spans family adventure, cinematic science fiction, dialogue-free preschool comedy and nostalgic British mischief. Every property has its own audience and visual identity, with scope for broadcast, streaming, games, publishing and licensing.

Pynk & Blu provides the proof: ten completed episodes, original music, interactive games, dedicated websites and television applications developed from a standing start in under two months.

MARK GREENWOOD

FOUNDER | WRITER | PRODUCER

Mark holds a BA (Hons) in Film & Broadcasting and has previously taken feature-film projects to Cannes. His wider career includes business ownership, teaching and strategic consultancy. That combination of creative training and delivery experience shapes a studio focused on completed work, practical production and long-term intellectual property.

PYNK & BLU

FLAGSHIP FAMILY ADVENTURE SERIES

THINGS BREAK. THEY FIX THEM TOGETHER.

Best friends Pynk and Blu form the repair team at Greenwood Galaxy Studios Theme Park, where every malfunction launches a new adventure. Storm-damaged pirate ships, runaway rides, horses, roller coasters and enormous observation wheels all become part of their working day.

The series combines comedy, spectacle, emotion and a distinctive musical identity inside a repeatable, expandable format. Season 1 established the concept. Season 2 introduces more ambitious stories, stronger music and a major step forward in visual and production quality.

NOSTALGIC FAMILY COMEDY

CLITHEROE, LANCASHIRE
THE EARLY 1980s

Big ideas. Little brother. Guess who gets the blame.

Leon is an inventive, mischievous eleven-year-old who turns discarded parts into bikes, go-karts, sledges, kites and contraptions that almost work.

His younger brother Mark looks angelic, spots every opportunity and supervises from a safe distance. When things go wrong, Mark steps aside and Leon takes the fall.

"That'll never work."

"I told you so."

A warm, fast-moving comedy about brotherhood, ingenuity and glorious bad ideas.
